

IKE SAYS 'YES' - NEARLY

NO MAJOR INJURIES were caused when this car rolled over this morning near Araby Point. Shirley Dawson and Clarann Doucette, both 20-year-old TWA hostesses vacationing in the Village, were driving east on Highway 111 at about 2 a.m. when the car hit sand and rolled. They were treated at Desert hospital for cuts and bruises, but refused to stay for further examination as recommended. (Police photo by Dick Addison)

Council Votes City Pay Hike, Manager Aide

The way for salary increases for all city employees, from the city attorney to janitors, was paved by unanimous city council action last night. The pay-increase plan will take effect March 1.

According to a plan approved by council after it was submitted by the State Personnel Board, new classifications for all city jobs on the basis of equalization in responsibility and duty would either enlarge pay envelopes next week, or make it possible for later doing so.

Some new classifications were created, including an assistant to city manager Robert W. Peterson. Councilmen Ted McKinney and Earle Strobe objected to authorizing an assistant, McKinney said the added position, set at a salary of $456 to $562 monthly should await the new budget in July.

Councilman Frank Miller said Peterson's department was the only one in the city's departmental set-up that hadn't been enlarged, and Mayor Florian Boyd and councilwoman Ruth Hardy agreed that Peterson's load was too great for one man to handle.

The essence of the five assenting votes was to start a search for an assistant. Peterson said Ingwood recently held a test for similar men, and that he might interview them, thus saving Palm Springs the cost of a test.

Two College Students Fined

Two Pomona college students today were sentenced to pay $25 each in lieu of a jail term in Judge Eugene Therie's Palm Springs Justice Court after they both pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk on public property.

The youths, 20 and 21, arrested early this morning in a hotel parking lot after two hotel employees apprehended one, and then the other after the first struggled free.

One of the youths was seen in a car belonging to Trav Rogers, former owner of the Ranch Club, and his 22 cal. pistol was found in the glove compartment.

One was taken to the station, the other was arrested in his hotel room. He was also booked.

GRUB FILE

The Dry Lake Dude was talking to a lorn looking cowboy over on Meley street the other morning. "Whats the matter, bud?" he asked. "They don't treat me right out at the ranch anymore since they turned it into a dude outfit," replied the waddie, "they used to let me sit at the table with the family." "How come they cut you off?" asked the DLD. "bad table manners?" "Nope! that was n't it, they say my appetite's too big. I set a bad example for the payin' guests."

Old Dry Wash Smith will be eighty-three years old in July. He says he'd be eighty-five, but he was in jail for two years in Carson City, Nevada.

Woman, 24, Talks with Man Alone For the First Time in Her Life

LONDON —An—Pretty 24-year-old Kathleen Rutty talked to a man alone for the first time in her life last night. She also had her first date and her first glass of champagne.

Kathleen had been a ward of the government since she was 3 years old. Under the terms of a legal order, she was even forbidden to speak to a "male person" alone.

But Britain's Chief Justice Lord Goddard yesterday struck off the legal bonds and Kathleen lost little time in enjoying her new found "freedom."

Last night, she walked arm-in-arm with Joseph Beckwith, 22, a friend of her step-brother. Later, they toasted her release over a glass of champagne. And they talked.

Lord Goddard's order climaxed a long fight for Kathleen's freedom.

Killer on Way to Chair to Get Sanity Hearing

SANTA FE, N. M. —Killer James Larry Upton will be given a sanity hearing at 9 a.m. MST Thursday—15 hours before he is scheduled to die in the electric chair.

The New Mexico Supreme Court agreed late yesterday to the hearing, the 22-year-old "Mad Dog" slayer's last chance to escape death. If the court decides he is sane, there is little likelihood that Gov. John F. Simms will exercise executive clemency to spare his life.

Upton was convicted of the murder of Donald T. Dilley, a Salt Lake City, Utah, airman, near Albuquerque, N. M., in September, 1954.

'Stolen' $250 Found in Shoe

A purse containing $250 was found today by a hotel maid after its owner reported it missing Friday, and instigated an investigation lasting nearly a day and involving most of the personnel of a large hotel.

Mrs. E. L. Ruddy, 52, visiting from Toronto, called police Friday to report the purse stolen. She said it held two $100 bills and a 50 bill, and many credit cards.

Sgt. Bob White investigated the alleged burglary, quizzing hotel personnel most of that day, and into Saturday. This morning, a maid, cleaning Mrs. Ruddy's room and looking for a shoe thought momentarily to have gone the same way as the purse, found it full, under the bed.

VALLEJO, Calif. —Mrs. Doris W. Watson, 26, was shot and killed last night by her estranged husband during a quarrel over an attempted reconciliation.

Police said they found Mrs. Watson dead on the floor of her apartment with her five-year-old son, Bruce, standing over her.

Doubts A-Tests Will Soon Peril Man's Survival

WASHINGTON —An—Biologist George W. Beadle believes atomic bomb tests could go on for generations at the present rate without endangering the survival of mankind.

Beadle, head of the Biology division of the California Institute of Technology, discussed radiation's effect on heredity in a paper just published by the office of Naval Research.

He said: "I do not know of a single geneticist who has publicly advocated termination of all nuclear weapons tests."

Still, he said, there is no getting away from the conclusion that any addition to the radiation level will add to the number of genetic changes. And probably 90 per cent of the changes will be damaging.

It may take generations for the bad effects of genetic change to show up. But it also may take "thousands of years" for the race to recover from them.

$6000 Proceeds of Nugget Ball to be Presented

A check for around $6000, representing the proceeds of the Golden Nugget Ball, will be presented this weekend to officers of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Palm Springs Desert Hospital.

The amount raised includes the $2000 paid by Elsinore Machris Gilliland for a Rex hat that was auctioned off at the Ball, a check for $1000 from George Cameron, and other smaller contributions.

Mrs. Alphonzo Bell, Jr., president, and Mrs. Anderson will present the check to Mrs. Charles Farrell and Mrs. John Kenaston, officers of the Hospital Auxiliary, and Mrs. J. Ross Clarke, who was the Palm Springs representative on the committee for the Ball.

The spectacular event was held at the Tennis Club on January 21.

County Seeks Damage Claim

Donald A. Archer of the district attorney's office was directed by the supervisors this week to file a small claims action in the Palm Springs Justice Court for recovery of $85.53 damages assertedly sustained by the county vehicle he was driving on January 5 in a collision with a car operated by Michael Fox said to be temporarily employed in Palm Springs and a non-resident of California.

Fox was cited by the California Highway Patrol for making a left turn across the highway without due caution and violating another's right of way. The collision occurred on Highway 111 about two and one-half miles east of Cathedral City.

Europe's Rivers Bombed to Free Blizzard's Grip

LONDON —An—Men and governments resorted to bombs and shells today to free themselves from the paralyzing grip of ice jams caused by the bitter cold of Europe's worst winter of the century.

But in freeing the continent's rivers of ice packs, the danger of floods and avalanches was increased and further death and damage was threatened.

As planes dropped food and clothing to people in isolated towns and villages in the 17 countries affected by the Siberian freeze, the death toll since Feb. 1 rose to 808 persons.

In Yugoslavia, Air Force planes dropped bombs on ice packs yesterday in an effort to get Serbian rivers back into their ice-blocked channels. Along the Danube, the Yugoslav Army fired artillery shells into ice formations in efforts to break mountainous ice jams. Flood threats grew.

At least six houses collapsed and 19 others were evacuated following landslides and avalanches in various parts of Italy. One huge slide along the Adriatic Coast threatened 150 houses.

Teitelbaum Case

LOS ANGELES —An—The appearance of furrier Al Teitelbaum in Superior Court on a writ of habeas corpus has been postponed until March 13.

DULLES RETURNS TO FACE STORM OVER MIDDLE EAST POLICIES

WASHINGTON —An—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returns today from a Caribbean vacation to face a congressional investigation of the administration's controversial Middle East policy.

Dulles, arriving by plane sometime in the afternoon, was expected to seek an early briefing from his aides on the furor over a shipment of 18 U. S. tanks to Saudi Arabia—a dispute which broke out while he was away from Washington.

Dulles and Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. will be questioned about the shipment, probably Friday, by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Another State Department official, Assistant Secretary George V. Allen, faced probable questioning on the same issue today during an appearance before the House Foreign Affairs Committee in closed session.

The tank shipment was heatedly denounced by some members of Congress who objected to this country sending arms to an Arab nation in the troubled Middle East at the same time that it was delaying action on Israel's request for U. S. arms aid.

After the congressional protests mounted, the administration declared an embargo which halted the tank shipment. But the ban was lifted some 43 hours later, and the ship bearing the tanks for Saudi Arabia departed.

Administration informants predicted that the forthcoming congressional investigation will show that President Eisenhower himself ordered the temporary embargo.

VILLAGE COUNCIL TO PROTEST CABAZON'S ANNEXATION PLEA

City council last night agreed to protest the Cabazon annexation of county land from Cabazon to within a mile of Palm Springs city limits because it would bring Cabazon too close.

Mayor Florian Boyd charged that Cabazon's Mayor L. D. Talent had not dealt fairly with residents of his city after incorporation last November. So he doubt-

Ike Reported Wanting to Run But Insists on His Own Test of Physical Stamina First

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON —An—President Eisenhower has informed close associates here that he wants a second term.

The United Press was informed that he qualified his statement only to this extent: He would not commit himself publicly until after making a personal test of his physical powers during a vigorous shooting and golfing vacation at Thomasville, Ga.

Mr. Eisenhower will return from Thomasville Saturday. He played 18 holes of golf there today. His game was markedly stronger. Republican leaders are confident now that he will announce after his return that he is available if the party desires to nominate him again.

THE DETROIT News reported today in a Washington dispatch by Martin S. Hayden that Sherman Adams and Leonard W. Hall had informed top Republicans that Mr. Eisenhower would run. There "were no ifs or ands or buts about it," Hayden wrote.

ADAMS IS Mr. Eisenhower's chief White House assistant. Hall is chairman of the Republican National Committee. Hall has insisted on his own for many weeks that Mr. Eisenhower would be a second term candidate.

Doubt that the President would run had been shrinking for nearly a fortnight since a medical examination here after which Dr. Paul Dudley White made an unforeseen estimate of Mr. Eisenhower's physical condition. White said Mr. Eisenhower reasonably could expect 5 to 10 years of active life, the kind of activity to which a President might expect to be subjected.

"Dr. White practically put him in nomination for a second term," a White House aid remarked thereafter.

THE PRESIDENT has not authorized anyone here to reveal his plans. Therefore, Hall's response to inquiries about Hayden's story in the Detroit News was what would be expected under the circumstances. Hall told questioners the story was news to him. He said he did not know "one way or the other" about Mr. Eisenhower's plans.

Adams was not available to reporters. Meanwhile a Chicago American story said Mr. Eisenhower made THOMASVILLE, Ga. UP — President Eisenhower announced today the United States would make 40,000 kilograms of uranium-235 worth $1 billion available for research and development of nuclear power reactors at home and abroad.

SANTA MONICA UP — Millionaire James McGregor Kenaston, 40, was barred from his home by court order today pending outcome of a separate maintenance suit filed by his wife, former actress Molly O'Day.

Damage Mounts as West Coast Storms Dwindle

SAN FRANCISCO —An—The West Coast's second disastrous storm of the winter eased off today, but the damage figure continued to rise.

A three-day combination of howling winds, heavy rains and drifting snow was blamed for at least seven deaths and numerous flash floods in Washington, Oregon and California.

Railroads and highways were blocked by slides, while communities were isolated and communication lines were ripped out throughout the three-state area.

The U. S. Weather Bureau cancelled storm warnings which had been in effect for 48 hours, but warned there would still be occasional rain and snow. It said, however, the huge storm center, "hanging" almost motionless off the Washington coast had spent its fury.

Councilmen Row Over Parking Versus Fire Lot

Councilmanic tempers flared last night when two factions in the seven-member group attempted to decide whether to convert the Peverly property to a parking lot or a new fire station site.

The property, on the west side of Indian Avenue between Amado and Andreas Roads, will remain as a temporary off-street parking lot for at least two weeks while an assessment spread is made to determine the cost to property owners who would benefit from purchase of the lot as a parking facility.

Following a motion by councilman Jerry Nathanson, seconded by councilman Jerry Sanborn, to direct architects to complete plans for Fire Station No. 1 to be erected there, councilman Earle Strobe asked why not go north, where the station would benefit the more thickly developed area, and leave the property in question for "urgently needed" off-street parking.

Strobe asserted the council and city manager, Robert W. Peterson, have not tried sufficiently to find another location for the fire station.

He and councilman Frank Miller said council had earlier promised the property owners involved in the parking district a spread of cost for them to study, and that hurrying a resolution to "close the door" would be shirking their duties.

When Sanborn said the property was too small for a good parking lot, Strobe retorted the lot was big enough.

Then Mayor Florian Boyd commented the whole idea of favoring a parking lot over a fire station was based on pure conjecture. Strobe answered, "Don't be cute." He added that Earle Strobe had the land measured and that it was a good-sized parking lot.

Nathanson's motion to continue on the plan originally submitted at the time of the lot's purchase about three months ago, was withdrawn when council agreed to find out if the property owners would be willing to bear the cost of the lot and its improvement.

Seeks Witnesses of Meteor Here

Residents of the desert area who witnessed the unusually bright fireball in the sky February 12 are asked to report their observations to John A. Russell, chairman, Department of Astronomy, University of Southern California.

Russell said a search is under way for fragments of the meteor, and answers as to direction, length of time visible, sound, would be valuable in this respect.

He may be contacted at U. S. C., Los Angeles, 7.

PUEBLO, Colo. —An—A prominent young Pueblo mother was kidnapped and held captive for several hours last night by a man identified by police as her husband's former schoolmate.

The woman broke away from her abductor after he was surrounded by some 30 officers on the outskirts of Pueblo.

Hearings on Plea for Three-Story Building Set Here

Public hearings on the application of National Hotel Enterprise to erect three-story buildings within the 30-foot height standards, have been set for 3:30 p.m. March 7 and 21, by the city planning commission.

Buildings have been limited to two stories in the past, subject to the 30-foot height limitation.

Opportunity will be given at the hearings for all interested persons and the general public to be heard, according to Herman Ranes, planning director.

Forget-Me-Not Campaign Was Most Successful

Forget-Me-Not fund drive conducted by Chapter 66, Disabled American Veterans, was the most successful in the history of the event, Dr. James Potter, commander, reported at the monthly meeting of the group.

Returns are still coming in by mail, he added. The members adopted a resolution of thanks to all persons who contributed to the campaign to aid Disabled American Veterans.

Dr. Potter told of different ways the federal, state and local governments are aiding veterans who lost their legs and eyesight during wartime.

VILLAGER L. C. WATSON SAYS 'I TOLD YOU SO'

Four of the most popular words in the English language are "I told you so." Villager LaRue C. Watson says he feels that he would be justified in shouting it from the house top.

The agitation and efforts of the past few years to stretch "the season" in Palm Springs at both ends, and even to encourage business to stay "open all year," stirs Watson's memory of a letter he wrote about fourteen and a half years ago to The Desert Sun, The Limelight, and the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, and for which he received a chorus of raspberries.

Since then the Limelight has been absorbed by The Desert Sun, and the management of the Sun and of the Chamber of Commerce has changed, so Watson wants it understood that his recollections are not a criticism of present leadership. Public sentiment has also changed.

AT THE TIME he wrote his letter, August 25, 1941, he had for many years been coming to Palm Springs whenever he could, even in mid-summer, but it was not until about a year later that he secured year-around employment that enabled him to "take his own medicine." He has now been a resident here over thirteen years and is still optimistic about the future of our community. Today he says, "Palm Springs has just begun to grow."

The letter in question was printed in The Desert Sun issue of August 29, 1941, under the heading, "Coast Resident Likes Palm Springs' Summer Climate." Watson says the complete absence of editorial approval or comment was deafening.

The letter was published in the August 28, 1941 issue of the Palm Springs Limelight, with an editorial footnote, "Dear LCW: We're not going to argue with you, because it's too blasted HOT!"

THE CHAMBER of Commerce is now on the "year round" bandwagon, as is the Junior Chamber of Commerce, but under date of August 26, 1941, the one who was then in charge of the Chamber office replied that the idea was impossible and undesirable—that local business didn't want to have to stay open all summer. Business people, said the Chamber secretary, wanted to be able to close and get out of town for several months every summer.

Following is a reprint of Watson's letter that received such a hot reception that August of many years ago.

"To the Chamber of Commerce, and the Newspapers of Palm Springs, Calif., Gentlemen: Here is a hot tip from a warm friend of Palm Springs, that ought to mean good money for the business interests of your unique and delightful city.

Americanism Leader Urges Realization of Red Threat

Bringing to bear his vast experience of three decades in combating the Communist conspiracy, Dr. John R. Lechner, executive director of the Americanism Educational League, exploded the myth of "peaceful co-existence under a condition of status quo" before Rotarians at the meeting Wednesday noon at the Tennis Club.

Dr. Lechner pointed out the need for a realistic appraisal of our struggle against Soviet imperialism, warning that blind optimism and ignorance of the Soviet dedication to world conquest will spell the end of American freedom. He urged the formation of a national non-political advisory council of experts in communist philosophy and techniques to assist the State Department and Defense agencies of the government in meeting communist maneuvers on all fronts.

"The new communist line of advocating 'peaceful co-existence' was invented by the Soviets to set the stage for the Summit Conference, and it took this nation by storm. The wave of optimism created by our own officials, and reflected in news stories and comments, induced a hypnotic sleep for weeks, until actions and statements by Soviet leaders once more caused the ugly specter of Red imperialism to dull the brilliance of our diplomatic moves for peace. Within three months after this Conference, even the uninformed in America recognized the dismal failure of Geneva.

"IT IS ESSENTIAL to understand what lies behind every step of the Soviet campaign, whether they be peace overtures or infiltration and aggression. The Soviet regime is irrevocably dedicated to the destruction of free nations across the world. It may use deceit and false promises of friendship and cooperation, but in the end, the central principle of Marxism will dominate, that of a universal Soviet state. And when Khrushchev made the statement a few days ago before the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist Party, that war is not inevitable, he did not deviate from that principle.

"ACCEPTING THE Soviet proposal for a 'peaceful co-existence on a basis of under status quo' would make this nation guilty of its greatest moral defeat in our eventful and proud history. A peace on that basis would mean that we repudiate the solemn promises we made to the unfortunate peoples of the satellite nations, enslaved by the ruthless aggression of the communist conspirators, that we shall make every effort to restore their rightful freedom.

"Americans must face these hard facts if we hope to cope with the greatest threat to our freedom in American history. We must continue to assist other nations in the Western Bloc, but we must end the practice of squandering our vital resources upon nations which want neutralism, and which are not solidly pledged to the defense of the free world. The American people must insist that the defense structure of this nation be completely divorced from partisan politics, since freedom must be cherished by both political parties.

The patron walked into the place via a backdoor entrance and let fly with a blast at the bartender with an order for a "gimme an-oddler one, will you."

The performer on the stage was frustrated to some extent — to such an extent that his notes for one or two bars were off key.

The bartender blanched white and the newshawk sitting in the windward odor of scotch and harthis, ducked to avoid anything that may have or possibly could have been flung through the air.

"You know," said the newshawk, "the last time that performer was heckled, he pulled out a pistol and began shooting."

THE DISTURBANCE subdued like the hurricane that had passed and left everything passive and motionless like the touch of something dreadful about to occur.

The news hawk picked up his paper and began to read his competitor's yarns. A hand suddenly smacked the newspaper down. Nonchalantly the reporter picked up the paper and commenced reading again. Down came the hand again and the paper was almost torn in half. Chagrined and infuriated, the newsmen turned toward the tantalizer.

"Look, if I promise not to bother you in your profession, lady, will you promise not to bother me? Otherwise, my dear, I'll shoot that light out in front of your house."

That's all, partner. The story ends right there. No more trouble although the air was charged with electricity for a bit of time.

The Restaurant Grading Ordinance

The plan informally laid before the City Council Monday for a restaurant sanitation-grading system deserves the solid support of Palm Springs restaurant operators and prompt passage by the council.

This system in many cities has proved a strong and effectual incentive to improved cleanliness in the portion of a restaurant most essential to the public's health and the portion it least often sees. Moreover it has put this phase of public health enforcement more on a voluntary basis — voluntary in the sense that a sub-standard restaurant is penalized only by loss of patronage which it can at any time regain by bringing its cleanliness rating up.

Normally these systems require that all a municipality's restaurants, after an adequate period of notice, be inspected by city health officers who post in their windows an A, B or C card. The C card requires the possessor to clean up or close up within 30 days. A B rating permits him to operate, but gives notice to potential patrons the establishment's cleanliness is below A. There is no other penalty.

This is not to intimate there are un-sanitary restaurants in Palm Springs. This community is unique in many respects; perhaps it is so in kitchen cleanliness. But the fact remains most cities have found a small but shocking proportion of operators are too careless in the handling of food for their customers. These the grading ordinances have improved or eliminated.

Indeed, the moment city authorities have begun considering such measures, proprietors of all cafes invariably have hastened to clean up whether they needed it or not — just to be on the safe side. The mere possibility has salutary effect — to the obvious benefit of the public.

Palm Springs has untold thousands of dollars invested in its justly-famed eating places. Most present flawless, attractive fronts. They can protect that investment further — and draw more patrons to this resort community — if they will join in urging the council to give them by law the means of guaranteeing those patrons their kitchens are as immaculate as their dining rooms.

Operators here could truly distinguish themselves by taking the initiative in this reform with the city council.

"Propriety" of Another Color

Somewhat we can see an ironic parallel between the veto of the natural gas bill and a recent federal blunder of special interest to Palm Springs.

When President Eisenhower vetoed the controversial but meritorious gas measure, he indicated he was for the basic principles but killed it through resentment at lobbying tactics of "some private persons."

That had reference, of course, to the single California Oil company attorney whose clumsy enthusiasm for the bill led to the proffer of $2500 to Senator Francis Case's campaign.

Mr. Eisenhower's veto message lashed out at "efforts that I deem to be so arrogant and so much in defiance of acceptable standards of propriety as to risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes."

Indubitably he was right as to such methods.

But suppose we try the propriety shoe on the other foot — say, the government's. Though this is an organism far too big to be policed by any one man, even of the Eisenhower personal integrity, it too has a duty to keep its proprieties clean. When it doesn't, some of the blame necessarily splashes onto the White House, deserved or not. One incident of such less-than-immaculate federal propriety occurred about a month ago.

O. K. Armstrong, a former Republican Congressman from Missouri, was employed as a $50-a-day consultant to the Bureau of Indian Affairs to assist in a study of alcoholism among this country's Indians.

He was one of three whose appointment was announced by Glenn L. Emmons, the Indian Affairs Commissioner who recently visited Palm Springs in an effort to woo approval of the Indians here to a land equalization — and possibly land release — program he is preparing.

Since good Indian relations are as urgent in many parts of the nation as they are in Palm Springs, this Indian welfare endeavor sounded all to the good.

Then a Missouri newspaper reminded Washington that Armstrong had been tried, convicted and fined $1500 last June in Springfield, Mo., for filing false income tax returns for 1947, 1948 and 1949.

It pointed out that an appeal was rejected last month by the United States Court of Appeals in St. Louis.

Following the newspaper stories, Armstrong bowed out of the Indian study assignment with the explanation "a major change in plans" left him unable to give enough time to it. Indian Bureau officials meantime said they had no knowledge of Armstrong's tax troubles except a "confusing" news story.

Despite the explanations, it is apparent the Bureau officials either (1) don't read or can't understand current news; (2) don't prudently check up on new employees, or (3) the Bureau again is being used as a dumping ground for out-of-work politicians.

Thus there are two sides to the "propriety" fence — and both eligible for the inscription: "So arrogant and so much in defiance of acceptable standards of propriety as to risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes."

Neither instance is to be condoned. But of the two, the latter seems the more culpable. — M.L.H.

Then there's the story about the Maine farmer who had a talking uig. The farmer was one of those taciturn men who kept his own counsel and nobody would ever have known about the remarkable animal if a visiting Bostonian hadn't discovered the fact. When he did, he shot a stream of excited questions at the farmer.

"How long have you had this pig?" The farmer answered, "Two years." The Bostonian exclaimed, "Why have you never told anyone about this?" The farmer sighed and answered, "Well, I thought he'd outgrow it."

TRY AND STOP ME

DAVID ZEITANI, here on an official mission from Israel, told of a marriage arranged for a youth in Jerusalem by his ultra-orthodox parents. Just before the ceremony he set eyes on his bride for the first time. Not only was she fully two feet taller than he was, but she weighed over 350 pounds. The bashful boy watched her waddle out of the room, then murmured respectfully to his mother, "Mama, is all that for me?" A couple of caterpillars were crawling along a flagstone walk when a beautiful butterfly flattered over their heads. "Hmph!"

commented one crawler. You'd never catch me going up in one of those things."

Norman Baier refers to the men who tore down the old Third Avenue elevator. Ellsworth Zeebe, DETA nue Elevated Railroad tracks in New York as "el razers."

And Palma Springs Unified School district board is expected to act tomorrow night on a formal request to have the fine high school band march in the parade.

That I hope to see.

"Howdy Neighbor!"

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Today we honor Washington, Who warned against foreign intrigue. Was first in war and first in peace. And last in the American League.

Well, as verse, that sort of sputters. Too lean a mixture, I guess.

However, since this day is celebrated as Washington's birthday and with the baseball season about to get rolling, thought the idea was an appropriate one.

Which brings to mind another complication which in turn, leads to comments on Leap Year, which this happens to be.

GEORGE WASHINGTON really was born on February 11, that is, it was February 11 at that time. But it seems there was a mix-up in the calendar and when they caught up with it, they figured the day as February 22. Which is probably good, otherwise we would now celebrate George's birthday one day and Lincoln's the next.

And that might lead to a four-day weekend.

What would happen to our highways then? Three-day weekends are bad enough.

GETTING BACK to Leap Year. A week from today we'll have that extra day, February 29, which comes every four years and maybe not then if the century year isn't divisible by 400. Like 1900, for instance. People born on February 29 then had to wait until 1904 between birthdays.

Pope Gregory XIII tinkered with the calendar away back when and stuck in that extra day. It was designed to compensate for the few hours that each year is longer than 365 days. If he had not, we would have our coolers on in January and furnaces in July by now.

WHY IT'S CALLED Leap Year isn't certain. But it's thought that it was so called because every four years the calendar "leaps" a day. Like, for example, last year March 1 was on a Tuesday. If it were just another year, March 1 would be on a Wednesday. But because it is Leap Year, the day leaps across to Thursday.

Also, this business about the girls proposing only in Leap Year is a lot of malarky. They never wait four years and they get their man any old year.

Anyway, since this is Leap Year, shun the roofs of tall buildings.

WHEELS ARE ROLLING to put Palm Springs in the Rose Tournament parade next January 1. That has long been advocated in these pieces because of the millions who see the colorful parade in person and additional millions who view it via TV.

Jimmy Cooper has been in touch with Rose Parade officials and will file a formal application for entry.

And Palma Springs Unified School district board is expected to act tomorrow night on a formal request to have the fine high school band march in the parade.

That I hope to see.

Library Notes

For bored housewives, befuddled politicians, tired businessmen, frustrated expeditors, and whirligigged socialites we would like to recommend a new kind of remedy: browsing among the children's books in a library. There is nothing so apt to give a new perspective on life, as well as that sometimes forgotten, but always desirable, sense of wonder and awe that is the hallmark of eternal youth.

One of the nicest children's rooms we know is the room reserved for them at the Branch Library, a sunny place with stools to sit on and a periodically changing group of exhibits. At the moment, Alice Ann Webb's delightful shell mobile depends delicately above the front window. The shelves are here and there decorated with Mexican seashells—they were gathered from the beautifully crescent-shaped bay at Bahia Kino—and if you are curious enough you may look up their names in the informative pamphlet ANIMALS FROM THE SEA which Mrs. Flean has put there to answer just such questions.

Do you want to get away from it all? Does the bustle of the ordinary day leave you limp and breathless? And when you were a child did you have a secluded corner of your own, apart from the haunts of others? If you did, you will love A LITTLE HOUSE OF YOUR OWN by Beatrice Schenck de Regniers and Irene Haas. This is definitely a book for "children of all ages" and, although some wee ones like it, it is more generally applauded by those who look back nostalgically on their own childhood.

Among the easy books are CITY BOY, COUNTRY BOY by Miriam Schlein, musical prose concerning the joys of city versus country life; DAFFY TAFFY by Paul Brown, the story of a Welshman who was a pony because "his mummy and his daddy were pure bred Welsh ponies"; THE COLUMBUS STORY by Alice Dalgleish with exciting colored pictures by Leo Politi.

This is an excellent introduction to history for young people. While the facts chosen are those likely to appeal to youngsters, it is the Admiral's own words, with only very slight changes, which are used as refrains. And the author notes at the beginning of the book the dramatic words left by Christopher's son, Ferdinand, in the margin of his copy of Seneca's plays beside the prophecy that someday a great new continent would be discovered: "This prophecy was fulfilled by my father, the Admiral, in the year 1492."

And finally A TINY BABY FOR YOU by Nancy Langstaff and Susan Szasz, a photographic description of the baby who might be coming to your house, couched in terms calculated to endear him to his older brother or sister.

For the 8 to 12 group there is THE LITTLE CIRCUS by Jeanette C. Shirk. This entrancing tale of a travelling marionette show is illustrated by Mircea Vasiliu (whom adult readers will remember as the author of last year's story of a diplomat THE PLEASURE IS MINE). TREASURE AT BAR X by Walther Smith Kramer (this is a pseudonym for three people, two librarians and a teacher) was written to fill the need for realistic adventure stories as well as stories showing the Indians as they are today.

Another exciting book for this age group is SAN FRANCISCO BOY by Lois Lenski. This is the story of a boy and his sister, members of a large family in Chinatown. Miss Lenski was invited by a group of Chinese school children in San Francisco to write the book and no person more appreciative of the rich and ancient Chinese culture could have been chosen. The result is a gratifying look-see on the most interesting Chinese settlement in this country.

So, if you want to change your point of view, pop into the Branch Library and peer into the world of children. You will come away refreshed and delighted and with, perhaps, an armload of books to read Suzie and Peter to sleep.

Grace 'Cuts 'em All'

HOLLYWOOD — Louis Armstrong gave Grace Kelly a copy of his biography, "Satchmo," autographed as follows: "I have read about Princesses in all the books — but Princess Grace, you cut 'em all!" . . . Press requests for invitations to the Kelly-Rainier nuptials are being referred by M-G-M to the Consul General of Monaco in New York. That'll hold 'em . . . June Allyson and Joan Collins are squabbling already over who will get the biggest, most elaborate dressing room on the set of "The Opposite Sex" at M-G-M. Description of an actor — "He's a real nice guy. He'll let you do anything for him."

Liz Taylor has to thin down and Monty Clift has to fatten up for their starring roles in "Raintree County." Monty, who'll stick around to do "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" after he finishes "Raintree" looks real gaunt in his screen tests . . . Aldo Ray is set for the role of "Flash" in "Raintree" and Ann Blyth may play the goodie-goodie gal.

Current market among collectors of Greta Garbo and Rudolph Valentino autographs is $4. Bing Crosby is good for 50 cents, Betty Grable 40 cents. . . Move is afoot to close the Los Angeles Marriage License Bureau on weekends. Now we'll never get Artie Shaw back in town.

Fox is giving Marilyn Monroe's dressing room a complete facelift in honor of her imminent return to the studio . . . A quickie producer here is looking for a girl who looks like Marilyn but costs less than Marilyn's rival, Jayne Mansfield, for the title role in "Hot Rod Girl" . . . Red Skelton says a recession is when you tighten your belt, a depression is when you have no belt to tighten — and when you have no pants to hold up, it's a panic!"

TV TOPICS

When you heard Jane Wyman sing up a storm in "Echo of the Past," an upcoming Fireside Theatre Telefilm don't be surprised. Jane broke into show business as a hooper-singer long before she ever dreamed of going dramatic . . . Rudd Weatherwax, Lassie's owner-trainer, has set up "Barksdale Estate" near Newhall with loot earned by Lassie. "Barksdale" is to be a home for dogs retired from show business.

When Henry Morgan was notified by the Producers that Martin Gabel would replace him in the Broadway Play, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," he sighed, "I don't know if success will spoil Rock Hunter — but I guess Henry Morgan would." . . . Lawrence Welk is talking about reviving his food business by-product, something called a Squeezeburger . . . Pearl Bailey says she'll register at UCLA in September.

Liberace and brother George will make their stage debuts in August, starring in a two-week production of "The Great Waltz" at the Dallas State Fair. Lee will play Johann Strauss and George will portray the Elder Strauss . . . Jerry Lewis blocked out an entirely new act for his Las Vegas stint with Dean Martin while waiting for his spouse, Patti, at church . . . Friend of mine, who has watched a lot of them, predicts that if panel shows continue to pop up, the rising generation will think TV people have no legs . . . Then there was this frustrated bank robber. He held up three banks and all the loot he got was three sacks of quiz show questions and answers.

EARL WILSON:

No One Wants Marilyn?

NEW YORK — I asked asked about the rumor she's getting married next week — and Marilyn Monroe, a new word, "What! Nobody'll have me!" . . . A top Hollywood producer protested in court here, "That opposing lawyer's trying to make a liar out of me!" The lawyer replied, "Exactly!" — and did. The Hollywoodian had to pay $57,000 real fast.

The N. Y. contingent's getting ready for Grace Kelly's wedding. Salvador Dali'll do "fahntastek decor" and Dr. Maurice Sandoz (the Swiss author-composer who lives here) will do the music for an ornate ballet for the guests. Miss Tony Lander, Danish "dancer of the year," will star. Dali says, "Myself will create the decor, myself tell go March 15, myself can tell you nussing in advance. Except well be fahntastek!" Grace herself will be here in a couple of weeks — happiness-bound. She'll have a private sun deck on "The Constitution" when she sails.

I WENT UP TO THE ancient Amsterdam Roof to see "Strip for Action" rehearsing — and saw Jack Pearl, Jack Whiting, Yvonne O'Brien, Jerome Cortland, etc. — and, over in a corner, Composer Jimmy McHugh, a fugitive from Hollywood. "Last time I worked there," he said, "was 1930. This was Ziegfeld's Midnight Roof. It cost you $5 just to sit down." "Mark Hellinger was always here. His girl, Gladys Glad, was in the show, and we had the Duncan Sisters, Ruby Keeler, Helen Morgan, and Lillian Roth. Only one show a night and just the best people in town!"

He sighed and so did I. They say his songs will make some new stars.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . While everybody was talking about the Hal March-Candy Torton marriage at El Rancho Vegas, a man spoke up who his dtr. was marrying, too. 'Twas Jack Kelly. Grace's pop, resting there while Grace's mom was in L. A. shopping . . . Rita Gam and Tom Guinnberg helped glamorize the "Carousell" opening already glamorized by license plate "NY-1" — Averell Harriman's.

CBS TV will do the Circus, National Football League and Phil Sellers' "Top Banana" . . . Bob Feller will be Person-to-Person'd . . . Johnny Meyer and his bride cut short their European honeymoon — too cold there . . . The Joey Adamases celebrated their fourth anny. (And they said she wouldn't last!) . . . A feature of Galen Brake's show is Three Beaus and a Peep, with Darlene Zow. Jaeger, the famed Lindy's waiter, was on the Jack Paar show recently. Asked to appear gratis, he shrugged. "Only the birds sing for nothing." . . . Chicago disk jockey Marty Faye, who calls himself "world's most hated d.j.," hassled on the air with Guy Mitchell . . . An entertainer, often mentioned in scandal mags, says, "I wish I'd had all the fun they say I've had."

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Hitch Develops in Policy

WASHINGTON — A serious hitch has developed in those increasingly urgent three-power discussions here on measures to avert war in the inflamed Middle East.

The U. S., Britain and France are in full agreement on the basic policy that they must act together on whatever is done, but they are sharply split on what that should be.

Britain and France favor immediate intervention by a United Nations Military force, consisting initially of American, British and Canadian troops.

The U. S. is opposed to that "at this time." Instead it is proposing "Trieste-type diplomacy."

This is the private report on the dragging Middle East talks which leaders of the House Foreign Affairs Committee have received from top State Department officials.

The latter authorities explained "Trieste-type diplomacy" as the backstage negotiations which were used to work out the amicable solution of the explosive dispute between Italy and Yugoslavia several years ago. This was accomplished by the U. S. and Britain outside the UN.

The Foreign Affairs Committee have also been informed that Canada has halted arms sales to Israel pending the outcome of the three-power deliberations. They have been officially advised by the Canadian government of this unannounced decision.

and its satellites. Last month Canada announced it would resume shipping weapons to Israel. Foreign Affairs Committee understand they are again being suspended as a result of "informal representations by the State Department and British Foreign Office."

WHO'S RUNNING IT — Senate Republican Leader William Knowland brought to light an unexpected piece of information about those highly-secret negotiations with Red China which have been going on in Geneva since last August.

The Californiaan uncovered the fact that Secretary of State Dulles is personally handling these protracted discussions.

This was revealed by Assistant Secretary Robert Bowie, while being questioned by Knowland at a private meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Bowie, head of the State Department's Policy Planning Staff, was asked about the possibility of Red China agreeing to renounce the use of force in the Formosa Straits.

"It has seemed to me that trying to obtain such an agreement was worthwhile," said Bowie. "It's the only way to determine their attitude. I was skeptical about the likelihood of getting such a commitment from them."

"Can you advise us what progress there has been on this at Geneva?" continued Knowland.

"I would prefer that you address that question to Secretary Dulles," replied Bowie. "I suggest that because he has been personally handling the direction of these negotiations."

Stafford Loses Claim for Tax Refund of $1508

Neither Melvin Stafford or his attorney, Leonard Bock of Palm Springs, were present this week when on recommendation by County Counsel Ray Sullivan, Jr., the supervisors rejected his demand for a tax refund of $1508.27 paid under protest. Stafford had been billed the amount due to an "escaped assessment" on a building on two lots he owns in the Palm Springs Village tract.

Frank Burchfield, county assessor, issued the following report to the supervisors Monday: "In 1948 subsequent to tax lien data of that year, Mr. Stafford erected a second building on Lots 11 and 12 of Palm Springs Village tract. One other building had been assessed prior thereto but due to an oversight on the part of our field deputy in Palm Springs the second building was not added in 1949 or subsequently until the escape was discovered during the 1955 assessment period."

"Mr. Stafford was advised of the circumstances by letter in February of 1955 and informed that the second building would be added to his assessment for the years in which it had escaped, that is from 1949 to 1954 inclusive. He made no protest before the County Board of Equalization."

"Mr. Stafford had spent approximately $18,000 for the new building which he did not declare to our deputy in 1949 or thereafter. The original assessment covering the one building was $1800 and $6940 should have been added in 1949 for the new building."

"In my opinion it should have appeared obvious to both Mr. Stafford and our field deputy that an oversight had occurred."

Bock told the supervisors when he appeared before them January 16 that he believes the law pertaining to escape provisions covers an entirely different situation. He said then that because failure to assess the newer building was an oversight on the part of the assessor, back taxes could not be collected on it.

Rev. Smith to be Speaker at Lions

Rev. M. Joseph Smith, member of the Coachella Lions Club will be the speaker tomorrow noon before the Palm Springs Lions, meeting in weekly luncheon session at the Chi Chi.

He will speak on the subject, "Experience of a Missionary as Prisoner of War."

Dr. Bertram B. Weatherall, pastor emeritus of Palm Springs Community church, will introduce the speaker.

BOOKS

By United Press

Kenneth Roberts tells a terse, powerful story in Boon Island (Doubleday). It's a tale of 14 men and their 24 days on an ice-sheeted rock without food or fire. The sailing ship Nottingham was 135 days out of Greenwich, England, in 1710, when a storm hurled it against Boon Island, a bare rock just visible above the water and only six miles from the Maine coast.

Captain John Dean, a mild leader, faced an almost hopeless situation. He had to drive his men until they were beyond caring. From scraps of wreckage they could fashion a tent of sorts. They could pick oakum from waterlogged ropes to wrap their frozen feet. Toes snapped off like dry sticks. They could learn to eat seaweed, savor a scrap of ancient rawhide, devour a seagull raw — and learn to eat their own dead. They could use hands split open to the bone to pry a few handfuls of mussels from the frozen rock. They could build a boat out of scraps, lose it in the mad sea, and then build a raft out of even less. They could pray and keep fighting.

Ten men came off the rock—two gave their lives to reach shore for help and two succumbed to exposure. A lighthouse now marks Boon Island, Roberts inform readers. A brighter beacon, however, is this tribute to the men who gave Boon Island whatever fame it might ever have.

Only three years after the discovery of gold at Sutter's mill in 1848, San Francisco was a sprawling city. A high percentage of its population were thugs from Australian jails, claim jumpers, outlaws, plus a variety of home-grown desperadoes to whom the town was "just an oasis on the way to El Dorado, a bonanza town for gambling, real-estate and business speculation, drinking and whoring."

Against this chaotic backdrop of crime and violence, Alan Valentine has written a lively volume entitled Vigilante Justice (Reynal) which rather transparently attempts to whitewash one of the less admirable mementos in American history.

To Valentine the vigilantes were knights in shining armor. Their detractors, on the other hand, ranged from weaklings, cowards and fools, to outright murderers. He quotes with evident approval, a Missouri newspaper in the case of a man who had been hanged "by popular but extra-legal action."

Testimony to civil authorities after a vigilante hanging amply confirms that these executions did not have unanimous approval.

Valentine, who was president of the University of Rochester for fifteen years has nevertheless done yeoman work in ferreting out many documents of that reckless period.

The Republican party formally introduced the advertising agencies to presidential politics in 1952, with such promising results there seems no doubt they will be retained by both sides for this year's campaign. John G. Schneider, who used to be an adman himself, is willing to surmise that by 1960 they will be so dominant that the man the people choose that year will be less a president than a "product."

The Golden Kazoo, (Rinehart.) Schneider's first novel, is a hilariously satirical report on the agency-dominated 1960 campaign, written with a pointed chuckle at both parties and at such other American institutions as television, the newspapers and the cocktail party.

The story's principal character is Blandie Reade, president of Reade & Bratton, Inc., and mastermind of the Republican campaign. His chief enemy is B.S.&J., the agency handling the Democratic candidate, but he is not without foes in his own camp — like the copy supervisor with R.B.'s secret campaign plans or the Republican candidate's wife, who ran off with a "white Russian" from Brooklyn just after her spurious pregnancy had given her husband the best rating in the campaign.

The Golden Kazoo is an uproariously funny book, but there is enough possibility of the truth in the forecast of the future of the "curious but lovable business" of advertising to make it more than slightly disturbing as well.

Pearl Frye devoted two historical novels to Lord Nelson and his love Lady Hamilton. Now, she has written a third one about John Paul Jones, Scots-born son of a landscape gardener who became the most remarkable hero in American naval history.

Gallant Captain (Little, Brown) takes up the career of John Paul in 1773, when he was a merchant ship master at 26, with 14 years of seafaring behind him. The story proceeds through his crowning triumph, his victory over the 44-gun British frigate Serapis.

Gallant Captain is highly fictionalized, and its hero acquires a vocabulary and an address somewhat unusual for a man who went to sea at 12. But a novel is a nov-

New Play Opening at Padua

This week marks the opening of the second, all-new play of the 1956 season for the famed Mexican Players of Padua Hills Theatre. "La Llorona del Rio" (The Weeper of the River) was especially written for the Mexican Players by Jose O'Beo, now in his sixth year at Padua Hills. A rollicking, yet ghostly, production, the show will run six times weekly at the playhouse in the foothills.

A Mexican folklore favorite, "La Llorona" deals with the trials of a young, just-married couple whose marital bliss seems to be haunted by a ghost. The villager's fiesta in celebration of the wedding comes to an abrupt end when interrupted by a wailing lament.

Directed by Mexican folk-lore expert, Eligio Herrera, the romantic leads are played by Luis and Maria Abundiz, with Conchita Gallardo, Vida Amador, Micaela Velazquez, Alicia de la Torre, Gilberto Flores and others of the Mexican Players adding color, pathos, humor and ghostly cries.

These elements, coupled with the surprising but happy climax of the show and its outstanding singing and dancing, make "La Llorona" one of the best of the new season.

"La Llorona del Rio" will play Wednesday through Saturday evenings, and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at Padua Hills Theatre. Theatre guests are invited to stay after performances for the Mexican after-theatre "merienda," where Mexican hot chocolate and delightful "bunuelos" are served with a background of informal entertainment.

el, and this story of an intrepid fighting man who immortalized the defiant retort, "I have not yet begun to fight" is an excellent one.

'Air Power is Peace Power' Aviatix Tells Ninety Nines

"Air power is peace power," this country had but one. She said Jacqueline Cochran Odum when she addressed the Ninety Nines at a Monday luncheon at Chi Chi where she was both the honored guest and the speaker.

The famed aviatix, who founded the local 99 Chapter of women flyers, said that it is not economically sound for the Air Force to train women pilots as marriage too frequently interrupts a woman's career. She pointed out, however, that the 10,000 women in the United States who hold pilot's licenses are a ready backlog of partially trained pilots in any emergency.

The woman, who helped draft the Bill which created the WAF's and permits the Air Force to mobilize women pilots in case of need, thinks this is of vast importance. She outlined how women pilots were of great assistance in World War II, ferrying planes, towing targets and hauling supplies. For her own War efforts, Mrs. Odum received the Distinguished Service Medal and the Legion of Honor of France. She is the only woman to wear the DSM. She told a little of her trip behind the Iron Curtain, when she saw 9 Delta-type aircraft in the air over Russia, at a time when this country had but one. She said that she thinks it important for this country to develop more military strength.

The speaker, who is a candidate for Congress, was introduced by Mrs. Zaddie Bunker.

The audience was mostly women flyers and members of the Coachella Valley Chapter of 99's, the organization which was founded by the late Amelia Earhart. Among guests were Lord and Lady Essendon, of Essendon, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Matthews hosted a dinner at the Tennis Club Friday for friends from San Francisco, who were guests at the Carmelita Motel for a week. The guests were Dr. Dorothy English and her husband, Dr. H. Dagenhart. Both are pediatricians in San Francisco.

NEW YORK 48 — A hard rock puncher from the hard coal belt and a fighting Irishman out of England's boxing booths are making faces at each other today as further proof that the middleweights compose the ring's hottest division.

The heavyweights seem to be in moth balls and the light heavies apparently are all but extinct. So in the third straight 160-pound bout to be televised nationally on Friday night it will be Pennsylvania's Rocky Castellani against Britain's John L. Sullivan.

THAT FAMOUS name hasn't swayed the oddsmakers, because Castellani is a 2 to 1 choice. But it does prove that the middleweights are hotter than a two dollar pistol. Such 160-pounders as Gene Fullmer and Gil Turner, along with Eduardo Lausae and Bobby Boyd, dominated the last two big shows.

Ray Robinson is slated to defend the middleweight title against Bobo Olson at Los Angeles on April 20 and, waiting in the wings, are such prime hopefuls as Joey Giambra, Tiger Jones and the undefeated young Rory Calhoun.

TO COMPLICATE matters, Charles Humez is on his way over from France to try to cut down the contenders a bit and maybe get himself a shot at the Robinson-Olson victor.

But you can't overlook the man who wins this one at Madison Square Garden on Friday night. Castellani boxed both Olson and Robinson and, if you remember, had them both on the deck before losing close decisions in each instance.

AT 28, the Rock from Luzerne, Pa., who lives in Cleveland, has a business in Atlantic City and wants to settle in Teaneck, N. J., is a real challenger. He was boxing's "rookie of the year" in 1949 and has won 60 of 70 bouts, with eight losses, two draws and 15 knockouts to his credit.

He will, however, have his mitts well occupied in trying to handle the bearer of one of boxing's most illustrious names. For this Sullivan, although only 23, is no Johnny-come-lately to the business of fistfights.

JOHN L. the younger comes of a fighting family, as any of the Sullivans will tell you. His father was a light heavyweight known as "Battling" Sullivan, no idle nickname, and one of his brothers was a willing welterweight.

Thus John L. had a family precedent to follow when he began boxing in the "booths" at British fairs when he was only 14 years old. He was the British Empire middleweight champion, a bauble which he lost to one Pat McAteer on a foul. Subsequently he was stopped in one by Artie Towne.

BUT, JOHN L. contends, the morning of that fight his manager died and, being handled by unknowns in that brawl, he was a confused gladiator whose heart was not in the business at hand. Certainly he has been a willing worker, with a total of 84 fights. Of these he has won 64, lost 17, fought three draws and scored an impressive 35 knockouts.

Apparently someone has got to go in this one, because Castellani has reverted from boxer to puncher in recent months. This puts him back in the class in which he started so promisingly.

Without question, it should be a fine scrap. And there's plenty of work around for the winner.

Seixas, Larsen Head U.S. Hope

NEW YORK 49 — Vic Seixas and Art Larsen, America's top-ranking tennis players, head a field of 32 players in the National Indoor Tennis Championships opening today, opening a season aimed at recovery of the Davis Cup from Australia.

The tourney is the first major event on this year's tennis program and is the first chance for Seixas and Larsen to prove they still rate Davis Cup berths ahead of several aspiring youngsters including Sammy Giammalva of Houston, Tex., Gil Shea of Los Angeles, and Grant Golden of Chicago. There also is a strong foreign entry list headed by former U. S. indoor champion Sven Davidson of Sweden and big Kurt Nielsen of Denmark.

Seixas, of Philadelphia, has been seeded first among U. S. entries, with Larsen, of San Leandro, Calif., second, Shea third, and Giammalva fourth.

Seixas is heavily favored over William Lurie, Larsen over Jan Lundquist, and Davidson over Irv Dorfman of New York in first-round matches today.

FIGHT RESULTS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Al Andrews, 162, St. Paul, Minn., outpointed Billy Eilers, 160, Miami, Fla. 10.

HOLYOKE, Mass. — Barry Allison, 151, Westover Air Force Base, Mass., outpointed Wilbur Wilson, 148, Boston 10.

INDIANS MEET CITRUS IN CIF OPENER

TONY TRABERT, who will appear here March 3 and 4 at the Tennis Club with Jack Kramer's World Championship Tennis Tour, is rated "one of the world's most determined champions," because of his battle against many obstacles to reach the top.

Tony Trabert to Compete at Tennis Club March 3, 4

Tony Trabert, world amateur champion, who will appear at the Tennis Club with Jack Kramer's World Championship Tennis Tour on March 3rd & 4th, is one of the most determined champions the game has ever known. Tony has received several major disappointments in his climb to the top of the tennis ladder, and many of these disappointments would have made the average player forget about the game.

TONY HAS THE KNACK of making these stumbling blocks steps to success. After the results of this year's Davis Cup Match no one would have criticized Tony if he had put his racket aside and forgotten about it.

But a determined Trabert made up his mind that he was the greatest tennis player in the world and came roaring back in the U. S. single championships at Forest Hills with a display of confidence and shot making that carried him through the entire tournament without the loss of a single set.

U.S. SPORTS CAR CLUB SPONSORS LOCAL RACES

The Sports Car Club of America is taking over the Palm Springs Airport for the first time for a Sports Car Race on February 25 and 26th.

Although the desert course has long been a popular one, with nine previous races to its credit, the S. C. C. A., the largest sports car racing association in the United States with over seven thousand members, has never participated there.

IGNACIO E. LOZANO, newly elected president of the S. C. C. A., has announced that entries are pouring in from some of the nations top drivers from all over the West and although this race is not considered in the national point standings, many national champions will be competing.

Bill Murphy, who was second nationally last year, has entered his Buick Kurtis special. Jerry Austin, who was second in the C Production class and won the six hour race at Torrey Pines in January, has entered the "D" Jaguar which is new in California but long known for its successful racing on the European circuit.

PHIL HILL, who just captured a second in Argentina, will be back in time to drive the von Nuemann Monza Ferrari which he drove to 1st overall in the national standings. (class D Modified.)

Ken Miles, the under 1500 cc champion will be on hand in another von Nuemann entry, the 550 Porsche Spyder, which he drove to third overall in the big car race recently.

Close League Play Friday at Perris Hi

First Play-Off
Game to be Here
on Tuesday Night

BY DAVID FISHER

The Palm Springs Indians, recent winners of their first Riverside County League basketball championship, end their regular season this Friday night when they tangle with the cellar dwelling Perris Panthers, a victory giving the local warriors a 13-1 record for 1956 R. C. L. play.

Next Tuesday Ralph Watt's cagers open up the California Inter-scholastic Federation playoffs when they face an offensive minded Citrus High School quintet from Azusa in the Palm Springs gym. The squad from Citrus finished second in the rugged Tri-County League, even though they downed the first place school, Puente, twice. Because of trouble with the players they were forced to forfeit three games, which pushed them out of the league's top spot.

THE INDIANS received a big break when it was decided to play the tilt here. Watt's wonders have yet to lose this year in their own gym and have put forth their best performances here. The locals will also have the advantage of a highly partisan crowd behind them and this could be a big factor.

Leading the Palm Springsers in their race to the championship has been their oversized center, Charles Jordan. This top college prospect is the league's leading scorer with 328 points in 13 games for a 26 point average. Jordan also has been giving the rest of the conference headaches with his amazing rebounding.

THE OTHER HALF of the Indian one-two punch is a speedy guard named Mickey Pelum. The transfer from Texas has been the key to the Redskins' fast break and is one of the most colorful players in the county.

Vic Reyes is the "take charge guy" of the Palm Springs hoops. The play making guard's defensive work can't be topped while his shooting has been steadily improving.

Other valuable cogs in this championship outfit are Sam Jones and O. B. Crawford. Jones has proved himself a definite scoring threat and along with his sidekick forward, Crawford, has helped the Indians' backboard strength greatly.

DESERVING MORE than a passing glance is the Palm Springs B team. Last Friday the Papooses upset a highly touted Hemet five that held on to a winning streak of 14 straight.

It was probably the best showing the resort light weights have ever made, as they dominated the contest with superior rebounding and an unstoppable fast break.

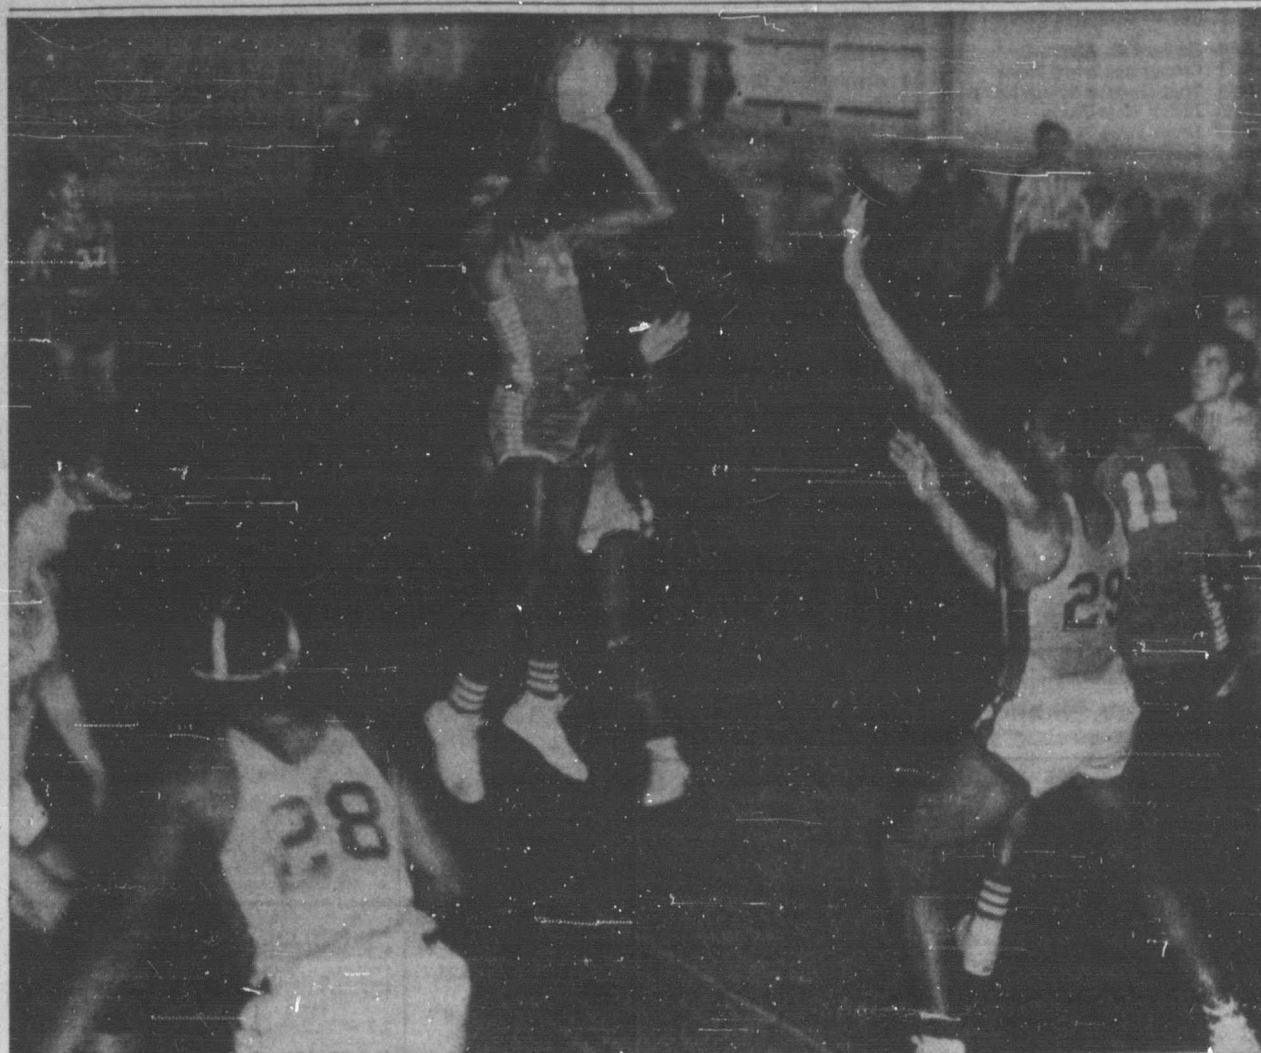

The captain of the local B's, sharp shooting Curtis Roberts, led the Palm Springs attack with 24 points. Also big factors in the victory were Eddie Tarr and Charles Brown who gave a big assist both in rebounding and scoring.

In his third year at Palm Springs High Ralph Watt has presented the reservation city with the best basketball team it has ever had. Besides its excellent basketball performances the players and coach alike have demonstrated sportsmanship and an attitude that represented Palm Springs High School in the finest fashion at all times.

International Golf Set

NEW YORK 49 — Top professional golf stars of the United States and Canada will meet in the fifth annual International PGA team matches at the Colonial Country Club, Fort Worth, Texas, May 7 and 8, it was announced today.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

SOUTHLAND'S SPOTLIGHT will focus on the Palm Springs Indians when they start into inter-league play next week. Because the local basketballers won RCL pennant with action such as this, O. B. Crawford shoots. Others waiting for the results of his attempt are, Elsinore players Bently, 28, and Love, 29, and Indians Vic Reyes, 33, Charley Jordan, 11, and Sam Jones, 10, far right. Jordan Has Big Lead for League Scoring Honors

COACH JIMMY REESE, of the San Diego baseball team, will stand the biggest load of pressure starting next month when he has to whip the players into a productive team. The Padres will start their season here March 16, play 13 games altogether. Junior Chamber of Commerce will handle all ticket sales. Jaycee Don Bortoff Monday will announce locations of advance sale places. General admission will be $1 for all games, including Cleveland Indians, March 24 and 25.

Naulls Tops PCC Scoring. Bruins Lead in Statistics

LOS ANGELES 49 — UCLA center Willie Naulls has maintained his Pacific Coast Conference scoring leadership although his teammate, Morris Taft, is pressing him for honors, statistics showed today.

Naulls has 218 points in 10 games for a 21.8 point game average. Taft has 207 points for a 20.7 average. Dave Gambee of Oregon State also has 207 points but he has played 12 games, cutting his average to 17.3. Other individual leaders are Bruno Boin of Washington, 204; George Sellen, Stanford, 195; and Larry Beck, Washington State, 181.

Jordan Has Big Lead for League Scoring Honors

Charley Jordan of Palm Springs Indians basketball team, Riverside County League champions of 1956, held almost a seven-point average over his nearest rival in RCL scoring up to last night's games.

Jordan has bucketed 343 points in 13 games for a 26.4 average. His nearest rival, Sims of Hemet, has a mark of 23.8 points in 12 games for a 19.8 average.

Third in the list is Mickey Pelum of Palm Springs, who has racked up 222 points in 13 games for a 17.1 average.

With one game to go — against Perris Friday night — Jordan is believed certain to take down the RCL scoring championship this year.

"PHONOGRAPH RECORDS ON A RADIATOR"

This idea sent in by Steve Linn of Sweetwater, Texas, is actually a warning because Steve and I both know that phonograph records are expensive and should be treated with loving care. I happen to have a wonderful record library myself which includes such hard-to-get collector's items as "Bela Lugosi Sings the Blues," "Music to Quarrel By," "Pinky Lee Meets Bach," "Basil Rathbone Sings Rock 'n Roll," "Charlie Chan Croons Again," "Cole Porter's Best featuring Rin-Tin-Tin," "Progressive Bop Concert by Margaret Truman" and "Count Basie Sings Gypsy Songs." I'm very proud of my records and I protect them by (1) cleaning them regularly, (2) not lending them to careless friends, and (3) never playing them. (Frankly, the records mentioned above sound better that way.)

New Master Plan for High School Developed

MASTER PLAN for the Palm Springs High School plant as approved by the Board of Education shows the location of the new buildings which are currently on the architect's drawing boards. The buildings which are colored are: (1) auditorium and music rooms; (2) administration building; (3) science building; (4) junior high school locker room; (5) junior high school shop classrooms; and (6) junior high school general science building. Lightly colored area indicates buildings already in existence. The uncolored areas are proposed future additions to existing classrooms and buildings. With the growth of this school district, administrators predict that additions will be necessary within the next five years.

Council Offers Plan to Settle Parking Suit

City council last night listed requirements for off-street parking in the downtown area, and voted to forward them to property owners in an assessment district in which the A. M. Liebling property is the parcel of contention.

The property is under condemnation proceedings brought by the city as agent for the members of the assessment district.

The resolution, prepared by councilman Jerry Nathanson, listed the offers the council would consider submitting to Liebling if agreed on by the assessment district owners.

The concession would include payment of $175,000 to Liebling for his property on Tahquitz Drive between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue; a waiver of off-street parking requirements for Liebling in his proposed construction on a portion of the property; a waiver of future off-street parking requirements for the other property owners in the district should they change types of business in their present buildings—but excluding restaurants, cabarets and public assemblage uses; and an easement plan of the parking facility.

The property owners, represented by William Tackett, of the Center, agreed to take the resolution under study, and tell the council their decision before March 9.

Liebling, represented by attorney Jerome Richardson, agreed to wait until March 14 for a decision from council as to whether or not the condemnation proceeding would be dropped.

He had earlier this month set a deadline for council decision at February 17, but extended that. The proceedings have been under study more than six months.

Liebling wants an early answer because the condemnation suit is set for hearing in Superior Court April 30.

Nathanson's resolution was considered by Tackett as the "nearest thing yet" council has considered. Tackett emphasized the importance of the property in question, and urged the council not to act hastily. Mayor Florian Boyd also urged caution before final decision.

Village-DHS Buses to Start Before March 1

Public transportation between Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs will start before March 1, a spokesman for the operator of the proposed system said last night.

Attorney Sidney Kahn, representing operator John Jervik, told city council at its special meeting last night that Jervik plans 10 round trips each day, seven days a week, between Desert Hot Springs and the Village, using two seven-passenger limousines.

The schedule would include at least one round trip each day for children to St. Theresa Parochial School on Ramon Road. The other round trips would be made to downtown Palm Springs on Indian Avenue.

Council approved the proposal's application for permission to operate after setting a five-per-cent-of-the-net fee, with a $25 monthly minimum, after tentatively agreeing stops for loading and unloading near the Greyhound depot on Indian Avenue would be part of the route schedule.

After unloading passengers from Desert Hot Springs, Kahn said, the vehicles would then stop at the Plaza, using that as their terminus. He said he had reached an agreement with Zachary Pitts, of the Plaza.

The bus would then load, make one more loading stop on Indian across the street from Greyhound, and head for Desert Hot Springs. Council's approval was based on the supposition that the Public Utilities Commission okayed the route. The commission has already indicated approval.

Senate Set for Hot Debate on Restoring Rigid Farm Props

The Senate prepared to start a blistering debate this afternoon on whether to restore rigid farm price props.

Both sides predicted victory by a narrow margin.

Provision for return to rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity is contained in the omnibus farm bill approved earlier this month by the Senate Agricultural Committee.

The big bill also calls for the administration-backed 1.1 billion dollar "soil bank." The "soil bank" would pay farmers not to grow surplus crops.

But that faces little opposition. The fight—expected to be one of the biggest in Congress this year—centers on the rigid support proposal which would scuttle the administration's flexible support program.

Other Congressional news:

INFLUENCE: The Senate was ready to approve a "wide open" bipartisan investigation of lobbying. The investigation is directed at attempts to influence senators "improperly or illegally." The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders backed the proposal to create a select eight-member committee to do the job. The inquiry is an outgrowth of the investigation of the $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) by an oil lobbyist interested in passage of the natural gas bill.

PLANE PROFITS: A House Armed Services subcommittee summoned Boeing Airplane Co. officials in an investigation of whether military aircraft manufacturers are making excess profits. A Boeing executive told the subcommittee the company in the past has charged the government millions of dollars for bonuses paid company officials. He protested a recent Air Force directive banning the practice.

HIGHWAYS: The House Ways and Means Committee went into closed sessions to draw up a tax-increase bill to finance a national highway-building program. Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) author of a plan to impose millions of dollars in increased taxes on highway users—predicted his bill would emerge without substantial change. Railroads and motorists charge the bill favors truckers.

INVESTIGATIONS: Congress voted $335,000 for three investigations of administration operations by Democratic-run committees. The investigations: The House Small Business Committee into alleged political influencing of regulatory agencies; a Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee into government security and information policies and a House Banking subcommittee into federal housing.

114 Alabama Negroes Indicted in Bus Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala. —The sheriff's office today started a round up of more than 100 persons named in indictments charging Negroes with illegally boycotting city buses in a segregation dispute.

A grand jury returned the indictments Tuesday. They were reliably reported to name 114 defendants in a presentment stating the boycott was one sign of "a growing tension between the races" in the city.

The indictments charged leaders of the 11-week boycott with violating a state law making participation in a boycott without just cause a misdemeanor.

The boycott began as a protest against the arrest of a Negro seamstress for refusing to move to the segregated section of a bus. It was continued to enforce demands for better seating arrangements.

Some 2,000 Negroes at a mass meeting two nights ago decided to continue the boycott despite the grand jury action. The Negroes have been riding in car pools, accepting rides provided by employers, or walking.

Maimed Woman Testifies in $500,000 Suit

SAN BERNARDINO —Bonnie Buehler, 25, former air line hostess, will need the assistance of a companion for life because of the loss of an arm and a leg in a speedboat accident, according to a doctor's testimony in a $500,000 damage suit.

Dr. Paul E. McMasters, orthopedic surgeon, told a Superior Court Jury Tuesday that he had recommended Miss Buehler have assistance at all times. He said she always would face the problem of losing her balance and falling.

Miss Buehler charged in the suit that she fell from the 19-foot speedboat September 1953, when it made a sharp turn on Lake Arrowhead. She said the craft was not in a safe condition because she fell into the boat's propellers when a railing gave way.

Charity Burro on Auction Tonight

Gargantuan Mickey Finn, whose huge frame figuratively melts when he comes in contact with an underprivileged boy, may have the coffers of his Mickey Finn's Boys Ranch handsomely filled.

The possibility arises from the scheduled sale of a burro by the name of Nellie Belle, to the highest bidder tonight in the Spur and Sable Room of the La Paz Resort Club. All of the sale money will be donated to Mickey Finn's Ranch Club.

Sealed bids have been received at the hotel from persons seeking to purchase Nellie Belle, but Jack Linthicum, general manager said open bidding may also be made at the auction.

"It is our firm hope that somebody interested in the work Mickey Finn is doing on his ranch for boys may come up with a bid that would run into three figures."

Bunker Answers Districting Case

City Attorney Jerry Bunker last night submitted by mail his reply to writs of mandamus filed with the State Supreme Court of California by Herbert Hass.

The writs, served Monday on Mayor Florian Boyd and city finance director Shelby Langford, seek to stop further proceedings in the April 10 councilmanic election.

Hass maintains that the redistricting election of last year should have been adopted as it passed by a majority vote, although not carrying by the required two-thirds.

Nathanson's resolution was considered by Tackett as the "nearest thing yet" council has considered. Tackett emphasized the importance of the property in question, and urged the council not to act hastily. Mayor Florian Boyd also urged caution before final decision.

Desert Circus Parley Thursday

Additional plans for 1956 Desert Circus, including a possible change of dates, will be discussed Thursday night at a dinner meeting of all representative organizations at the Ranch Club.

Among scheduled topics, according to President James Morton, are distribution of profits to charitable organizations; the circus theme "This Is Your Life — in Palm Springs," and site of the Big Top Ball.

Co-chairman Jimmy Cooper and Ray Corliss will propose that the dates be moved ahead one week. The desert's No. 1 event is now scheduled for April 19 through 22.

The dinner is scheduled at 7 p. m. with the discussion meeting set for 8:15. Persons planning to attend are asked to make reservation through the Chamber of Commerce, 6111 or 6181.

Carnation corner

CARNATION HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR
You know, I used to think all Cottage Cheese tasted pretty much the same—until I tried Carnation. Honestly, I've never enjoyed Cottage Cheese with such fresh, tangy flavor. Only Carnation could make it so good!

Carnation Cottage Cheese tastes so wonderful all by itself—just the way it comes from the carton. And, you know, that's the real test of any cottage cheese. But, don't just take my word for it. Try Carnation yourself and see how good Cottage Cheese can be.

Carnation Cottage Cheese blends perfectly with other foods, too. For instance, it's delicious in this time-and-work-saving dinner salad which does double duty for the children's lunch next day. (I know that Carnation Cottage Cheese gives them more protein, calcium and vitamin A than even fresh whole milk.)

Double Duty Cottage Cheese Salad

(Makes 8-10 servings)
1 package lime gelatin
2 cups hot water (or syrup from pineapple and water)
1 cup (1/2 pint) CARNATION COTTAGE CHEESE
1/2 teaspoon ginger
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups chopped unpeeled apples
1/2 cup chopped nuts
3/4 cup well-drained canned crushed pineapple
Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Chill about 20 minutes (to thicken, syrupy consistency). Whip Cottage Cheese, ginger and lemon juice until creamy. Add apples, nuts and pineapple. Blend Cottage Cheese-gelatin mixture together. Place in mold or loaf pan (9 x 5 x 3). Chill 2-3 hours or until firm. Unmold. Serve on lettuce with tart dressing.

Carnation Cottage Cheese is the best way I know to add vital nourishment to your meals when you're dieting, too. It's higher in protein—lower in calories than any regular cheese.

Dig this Crazy Mixed up Milk

The origin of cheese goes back into antiquity. Historians believe it was developed shortly after the domestication of the cow (around 9000 B.C.). Arabians probably took canteens of milk along on their desert travels. Chances are that the constant motion of the camels caused the milk to form curds and became the world's first cottage cheese.
